Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

The tax paying, voting American public don't need restrictions on our telephonic services. This is the year 2018, we don't need to be retrofitted to 1920.

Competition is key to innovation and better pricing for the American consumer. Price hikes from a lack of competition and not wanted by the American consumer.

Broadband is critical to American security as European and other countries have more advanced telephonic services than we have. European services are faster and the prices are affordable for everyone who needs those services.

I have competitive and dependable service from Sonic.net, Inc. and couldn't be happier with the service they provide to me.

Setting the clock back on telephonic services to advance the already grossly money bloated internet/telephonic companies would be a gross misjudgment for America and it's people.
